Mayor Barclay sails into office again on a high wave of votes.

The most congratulated man in Barre today is the second constable.

The voters of this city did well in registering eighty per cent of their full voting strength.

Editor W. J. Bigelow made a splendid run in Burlington and was beaten out for the mayoralty by only a small margin.
 But James E. Burke is a hard man to beat in Burlington.

A HANDSOME CONTRIBUTION.

The action of the Town of Barre in appropriating the sum of $5,000 to the erection of the Aldrich public library building, which will be constructed in this city the coming summer, is a gratifying proof of the kindly relations and common interests between the two places. But why, it may be asked, is the Town of Barre giving money for a building to be put up in the City? The answer is easily and convincingly given; the library was donated by Leonard F. Aldrich to the City and the Town of Barre, so that it is as much the property of the latter as of the former.
 The City has given an extremely valuable site on which to put up the structure, and now the Town meets it halfway with a handsome contribution.
 When the building is constructed the people in the Town should feel as much of the sense of proprietorship as the people of the City, because of the wording of the will of the donor, and as a result of their action of yesterday there will be doubly a feeling of interest.

WE FACE UNUSUAL CONDITIONS.

Rather unusual conditions face the cities of Barre and Montpelier as the result of the municipal elections of yesterday. Never since the local option law went into effect has it happened that both the cities were enrolled in the no license column. In fact, this year will be Montpelier's first experience there. Barre has just passed through one year in the "dry" regime, so that the experience will be nothing new. But last year when Barre was no, Montpelier was yes, thus affording an outlet, so to speak, for those in this city who did not care to curb their appetites.
 But this year Montpelier decides against the sale of liquor for a twelvemonth, and therefore this outlet is closed. There will be no swapping back and forth between the two communities by means of the three railroad connections. This condition of affairs means that there is a great deal of work cut out for the authorities in both cities during the coming year. With the drinking places in both cities closed at one and the same time, there will be the greater incentive to the law-breaker to ply his practices.
 To meet this the efforts of the officials must be exerted to an unusual degree.

municipalities and the citizens of both Barre and Montpelier must lend their efforts to the common cause of law enforcement or Barre and Montpelier will see a return to the unwholesome affairs under the old prohibitory law—something which all hope will be avoided.
 It means an effort, to be sure, but for what purpose is a no vote, unless it is to prevent the sale of liquor? Let the people of the cities bear this in mind; they have voted for no license.
 It is the duty of all, by virtue of that local option law which most people believe has justified itself, to now fall to and assist in the carrying out of the mandate of the people.

An Invitation to Call.

In answer to my question, she Agreed I might call one day:
 "The matter seemed to rest with me—I ventured: 'May I Sunday?'"

"Ah, that's the day I keep," quoth she,
 "For prayer and thought—my sunday."
 "Ah yes," I hastened to agree:
 "Suppose I come on Monday?"

She sighed: "Why Monday's washing day."
 You know—a mad, confuse day.
 "True, true," I was not slow to say:
 "We'll make it, shall we, Tuesday?"

"Our girls' society meets then."
 She said: "It's not a men's day."
 "Of course, it's yours to mention when," I answered: "As to Wednesday?"

"Well—then I take my dogs to walk—It is, indeed my cure day."
 So I, e'er reckoned hard to balk, Retorted: "I'll come Thursday."

"Oh, that's a day I don't receive—I keep that just for my day."
 And knowing she would not deceive, I said: "Expect me Friday."

"Why, that's my day for cooking-school—My biscuit, cake and batter-day."
 So I, who'm rather hard to fool, Said: "I'm engaged for Saturday!"

"On all the days you've named," she sighed,
 "I'm always busy—But on some other day, why I'd be charmed to have you call."

SYSTEMATIC SAVING.

An early start and a definite plan help to assure sucstarting out in life. It isn't necessary to be penurious nor is it wise to be extrava-

THUMB-NAIL SKETCHES OF NEW ALDERMEN

L. H. Thurston in Ward 4 Is a Veteran of War and Also City Affairs—H. F.
 Cutler and Arthur E. Campbell

Well Known Men Also.

The three new members of the board of aldermen are Arthur E. Campbell, Lucius H. Thurston and Harrie F. Cutler.

Lucius H. Thurston was born in Lawrence, N. Y. He enlisted in the Union army at the outbreak of the Civil war and served with honor through the four years of the war. He has been commander of R. E. Crandall post, G. A.
 R., and is at present adjutant of that organization. He is a retired business man, and is a large property owner in the fourth ward. This is not to be his first appearance in the council chamber, as he has been an alderman before for five years, and for three of those years he was president of the board. He has also held the office of overseer of the poor for several years. Mr. Thurston resides on North Seminary street, on which street he owns several tenements.

Harrie F. Cutler was born in Plainfield and received his education in the public schools of that village. He came to Barre 15 years ago and learned the tool sharpening trade. He worked at that for five years and then purchased a livery stable, located just below the M. & W. railroad station. Two years afterward he built the largest stable in Vermont in the rear of the City hotel.

He has built up a livery, sale and boarding stable business which is considerably larger than any other similar business in the state. He has been a very successful manager of his own business, and will doubtless take equally as good care of the city's interests. Mr. Cutler is a prominent member of the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

Arthur E. Campbell was born in Hyde Park and received his education in the public schools of that place. He came to Barre 16 years ago and went to work for his brother, Charles H. Campbell, in a store in the old Blanchard building.
 Later he went into business for himself, running a fruit and confectionery store.
 Eight years ago he went to work for Reynolds & Son, where he has remained ever since. He is a capable hardware man. Mr. Campbell has been an officer in the Knights of Pythias and is a popular member of the Uniform Rank of that society, as well as of the lodge.

 He resides on North Main street on the western corner of West street.

MACKENZIE NOT CAST DOWN.

And Thanks "Friends of Organized Labor" for Their Support.

Editor Barre Daily Times: Would you allow us space to extend our thanks to the friends of organized labor for their support at the caucus and also yesterday at the polls. Whilst the election is not all it might have been, (it was a victory, however,) for out of four candidates on the labor ticket three of them were elected, that in itself is something to be proud of, and it was perhaps too much to expect that the entire ticket could be elected at the first attempt. We were the first to congratulate our successful rival, and wish him every success in the third year of his administration. Again thanking all those who supported our candidacy, we beg to remain,

Yours respectfully,

JOHN J. MACKENZIE.

Ex-Mem. City Council.

P. S.—Tell Basset, that there are other things in connection with rum that can get a man into trouble besides drinking it. A wink to the wise is sufficient.

On Mob Which Demanded Work in Fraga, Spain.

Madrid, March 7.—A despatch received from Fraga, Spain, says: "Four hundred unemployed workmen have besieged the municipal offices demanding work. The authorities offered to place 250 of the men at work, but this was declined by workmen and subsequently they attacked the municipal building and the gendarmes were called out.
 They fired on the crowd killing four persons and wounding three."

BARCLAY IS GRATEFUL.

For the Confidence of Citizens, As Expressed by Votes.

I wish to thank the citizens of Barre for the confidence they have expressed by re-electing me to the office of mayor for the third term. Cannot help feeling grateful of the vote and hope I shall never give the citizens cause to regret having returned me to this responsible office.

It will be my constant endeavor to serve all citizens alike. Where work is most in need of being done in any of the wards of the city, it will be properly attended to. With the board of aldermen now constituted as it is, am sure the affairs of the city will be well looked after this year.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all those who worked and assisted in returning me to the honorable position of mayor for the third term. Would also thank the retiring members of the late board for courtesies they extended to me. As committee men, they performed their duties with a willingness I greatly appreciated; they worked for the best interests of the city to their best knowledge and ability. To the late chairman of the street commissioners, Alderman Mackenzie, wish to extend my sincere thanks for the diligent and useful work he put into that department.

Although they have left us, hope they will always take a deep interest in city matters.

With best wishes to all,

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM BARCLAY,

Mayor.
